In March 2010, Grande Prairie, Alberta will open its arms and its heart, welcoming and providing a showcase for young competitors and performers. The 2010 Arctic Winter Games' success will be due in no small measure to some 3,000 enthusiastic volunteers and the many sponsors and donors like you that will bring this massive event to life. Your willingness to invest your time and dollars is integral to the success of this event. Please take the time to learn more about these truly unique Games and about the opportunities that exist for your participation and contribution by visiting our website at www.awg2010.org. Thank you for your support in the 2010 Arctic Winter Games!
